'Save Wetlands for Tomorrow' – Arts Campaign for Children

Wetlands are important habitats for birds and other wildlife. With the aim to create awareness on the need to protect wetlands, the Field Ornithology Group's "FOG-Children" is organizing an Arts Campaign at Thalawathugoda Biodiversity Study Park on September 20, 2017 from 8.00 a.m. – 11.00 a.m.

After a brief bird watching session, the students will be guided by wildlife art experts on how to draw birds and other elements of nature. All the participants will be given a certificate of participation and a gift pack. The creations will be exhibited at an exhibition on a later day that will be conducted along with the World Wetlands Day theme.

Drawing materials will be provided for all and the event is free. However, only a limited number of children will be accommodated, so please get registered before September 5th, providing the following information to the co-ordinator – "FOG-Children" on 0719865433 or by sending an e-mail request to nirmala.rupasinghe@gmail.com

A Broken Family Tree

I am one of many
 Small branches of a broken tree
 Always looking to the ones above
 For guidance, strength and security.
 One little branch trying
 To keep the others from breaking away
 Who will fall?
 And who will stay?
 Now I stand alone
 Looking at the earth through the rain
 And I see the broken branches I knew
 Scattered about me in pain.
 There are those who have taken an axe
 To the root of our very foundation
 And who have passed this destruction

Down to every new generation.
 If I could take that axe
 I would toss it deep into the sea
 Never to return again
 To harm the generations that follow me.
 I am one of many
 But alone I will go
 And plant the new seeds
 Where a beautiful tree will grow.

IV Read the following passage and do the activities that follow. (05 marks)

If you are a student and are restless and nervous about the examinations, you will probably be overcome with anxiety and fear. You find it almost impossible to concentrate, worrying that you might forget whatever you have studied so far.

Fear of exams is the biggest enemy of students. Under its stress, some even fall physically ill. The word 'examination fever' has been coined in this context. Even students who have put in long hours of study become nervous at the time of exams. Experts advise not to lose heart, as students can definitely gain control of the situation. To get out of the fear psychosis, students have to ask themselves what they would gain by feeling afraid. For, fear brings sickness. But by being bold and brave, even an average student can do reasonably well in exams. But if a student shelters fear, it will deprive his mind and body of strength. The only result can be this: You will 'forget' all that you have studied while writing the exam. It is this fear that makes you write confused answers. Root out the fear complex lurking in your mind by combining self-confidence with disciplined study; have faith in your own strength and faith in your studies. The strong conviction that you would write the exams well, with a calm mind, is self-confidence. If you can develop this, fear vanishes and enthusiasm springs up in its place.

- (1) Write True or False beside each sentence in the space provided.
 - (a) The nervousness at the examinations makes students worry that they might not be able to remember what was studied. (.....)
 - (b) The students who study long hours can always face examinations well. (.....)
- (2) Which of the following best explains the meaning of the underlined sentence in the second paragraph? Underline the answer.
 - (i) Experts believe that the situation is becoming more serious for students.
 - (ii) Experts advise students that they need not worry because they can overcome this situation.
 - (iii) Experts advise the students to control the situation on their own.
 - (iv) If students can obtain advice from experts, it can definitely control the situation.
- (3) Write one word from the passage which means the same as the following.
 - (a) prevent somebody from having something -
 - (b) extending far down from the top to bottom -

PART C - SUMMARISING (10 marks)

For examiner's use only

I. Write a summary of each of the following two texts. Do not use more than fifty (50) words for each summary. If you exceed the word limit marks will be deducted. Write only one word in each cage. (05 + 05 = 10 marks)

(1) A hobby is an amusement or interesting pursuit which a person follows during his leisure or free time. A hobby, therefore, provides diversion from one's main business. What is a hobby to one man may be business for another. For example, to one man, photography may be a profession while to another, it may be a hobby.

Having a hobby that we enjoy brings us joy and enriches our lives. It gives us something fun to do during our leisure time and affords us the opportunity to learn new skills. The best way to cultivate a new hobby is to try something new. The world is full of wonderful, exciting activities that we can explore and adopt as our own. Of course, all of us are unique and, therefore, our interests and hobbies vary. But once we find a hobby that we truly enjoy and are passionate about, we become hooked. It becomes part of our lives and captivates us in a very personal way.

(2) As children we must respect our elders at all times. Do not make your parents sad because they are the ones who looked after you when you were small. They sacrificed all their needs to provide our needs and to give us a better future.

Elders are not only your parents; they also mean your teachers, grandparents, brothers, sisters or even any others who you meet on the road, who are elder to you. You must always respect your elders by helping them cross the road, giving them a seat in the bus, sharing your food with them if they are hungry or reading out letters, stories, religious books etc. In any condition, you must never raise your voice against them or argue which will hurt them. You must always talk and greet your elders in a kind and friendly manner which will make their hearts happy. Respecting elders will get you their blessings, which is important for us to have a good future.
